

The rules should not be changed. Narrowing the viewpoints available to the public is dangerous. Accessibility to wide opinion is at the heart of democracy.